Company add
Whiskey” As Father
Guido Sarducci, of Saturday Night Live
fame would say, “and that’s all-a you need-a
to know about-a that”.
OK, but if you are
curious or masochistic, read on. The nautical chart shows True north and Magnetic North on a thing called the “compass rose” (see above photo).

The mnemonic Timid
Virgins Make Dull
Companions helps with this: Start with Timid, or True, the true
direction from your boat to your destination. Add to that Virgins, or Variation,
the difference between
true and magnetic.
That results in Make, or Magnetic, the direction that your compass
shows.

This is the formula for converting true directions or courses to
compass readings:
True plus Variation
equals Magnetic heading. Beyond that,
add the Deviation to

Boating Definitions and Mnemonics

Well, back before the term politically correct had been coined we used the phrase “True Virgins Make Dull
Company”. True
Course + Variation =
Magnetic Course +
Deviation = Compass
Course. The process
remains the same, but I imagine there is
