First, Carroll's theory includes g (global or general ability) at stratum III and the Cattell-Horn theory does not, as these theorists disagreed over the existence of an overarching intellectual ability. This dispute is an ongoing debate in the field (see Schneider & McGrew, 2012 for a discussion on the existence of g).Second, in the Cattell-Horn model, Gq is comprised of quantitative ...

Collectively, these developments laid the foundations for future coupled reanalyses at ECMWF. The developments outlined above also allow the extension of ERA5 further back in time (to 1950) than ERA-Interim, though the focus for this paper is the period common to both, 1979–2019. ERA5 replaces the very popular ERA-Interim reanalysis, which ...

Evidence suggests that many of the effects of poverty on children are influenced by families' behavior. Low-income families often have limited education, reducing their ability to provide a responsive stimulating environment for their children. 30 They tend to limit their children's linguistic environment by using language that is dominated by commands and simple structure, rather than by ...

'Strategy' is defined here (sensu Westoby 1998) to mean 'how a species sustains a population... (given that it is) operating in the presence of competing species, in varied landscapes and under regimes of disturbance'. The 'gold standard' in meeting these two goals is to develop a general theory that explains trade-offs in as many contexts as possible using the fewest but most ...

This is in fact the strategy pursued in Rosen 1994. He makes the following points regarding the two realism-relevant Cruces considered in the previous section. Suppose that: (F) It is a priori that: x is funny if and only if we would judge x funny under conditions of full information about xs relevant extra-comedic features . and suppose that (F) satisfies (in addition to a priority) the ...

WYSIWYT employs a "Surprise-Explain-Reward" strategy (Wilson et al 2003), in which surprises such as colored borders attract users' attention to areas of the spreadsheet that need testing, and tool tips explain the colors' meaning and the potential reward in using the testing devices (Figure 13). Behind the scenes, WYSIWYT uses a formal test adequacy criterion to reason about elements of the ...

Beginning with Frege, many philosophers hoped to show that the truths of logic and mathematics and other apparently a priori domains, such as much of philosophy and the foundations of science, could be shown to be analytic by careful "conceptual analysis" of the meanings of crucial words. Analyses of philosophically important terms and concepts, such as "material object," "cause ...

Unlike in Europe, where the advent of the cannon spelled the end of the age of castles, Japanese castle-building was spurred, ironically, by the introduction of firearms. Though firearms first appeared in Japan in 1543, and castle design almost immediately saw developments in reaction, Azuchi castle, built in the 1570s, was the first example of a largely new type of castle, on a larger ...
